$25 Million Lawsuit Against Ford Is Settled Out Of Court

A $25-million lawsuit against the Ford Motor Company and the estate of Guy Register was settled out of court this week after hours of negotiations between attorneys of both parties. The actual amount of the settlement was not disclosed, but sources close to both sides have hinted the settlement will total in excess of $2 million, and will be paid in yearly amounts for the life of the plaintiff, Crystal Franklin, age 5, of Pike County.

The suit stemmed from a March 30, 1978 accident at the intersection of U.S. Highway 231 and George Wallace Drive in Troy. The accident occurred when a car driven by Oakley Register struck a 1973 Maverick from behind. The Ford Maverick exploded, killing the child's mother and grandmother, and causing extensive burns to her body. Plaintiff's attorneys, Gareth Lindsey of Elba and Frank Tipler of Andalusia, contended the suit that Ford showed negligence and/or wanton misconduct in the design, manufacture or sale of the 1973 Maverick in which Crystal Franklin was riding when she was injured following a rear-end collision. As a result of the accident, they declared the child, then two years old, was burned about her head, face and body and was permanently injured and scarred; was caused to expend large amounts of money for medical treatment and will incur medical expenses in the future; was made permanently unable to work and suffered mental pain and anguish.

It was also reported the child's medical bills to date total almost $40,000, and that partial skin grafts and therapeutic treatment has not fully restored the burn damage over 40 percent of her body. Doctors have stated they will not be able to complete reconstructive surgery until she reaches adulthood.

Several daily newspapers had reported the settlement was finalized on Friday, July 31, but on Monday the jury was instructed to appear at 1:15 p.m., and rumors insisted the settlement was still being discussed. Official word of the out-of-court settlement came on Tuesday in a brief 64-word news release by Judge Terry Butts.

Elba Grand Jury Instructs D.A. To Drop Investigation Of Missing Funds

The Elba Grand Jury Wednesday directed District Attorney Joel Folmar to terminate his investigation of the possible shortage in City of Elba Water and Electric funds. The Grand Jury report indicated the members felt any further investigation would be too costly and futile.

attorney, three witnesses were called before the Grand Jury.

Folmar said this was "a direct presentation of the matters involved and found in the case, and no warrant had been signed by anyone". He stated that by law he could not sign a warrant if he wanted to do so.

In a prepared statement released Wednesday afternoon by Folmar, he said:

"On May 1, 1981, this office was requested by Mayor Bob English to conduct an investigation into unaccounted monies involving the City of Elba's Water and Electric Board. The District Attorney's Office was advised that some $13,500 to $14,500 could not be accounted for during a period of time between October, 1980, and March 1981. The shortage was detected by city officials the first of March, 1981.

"During the next three months approximately 200 man-hours was spent by this office in an effort to determine the how and why of the shortage. City officials and employees were questioned concerning the matter. This office requested and received numerous documents from the City of Elba to allow the verification or proof of payment of approximately 130 utility bills. Verification was made of approximately $10,000 of the $13,500 to $14,500 initially reported. Many accounts were unable to be verified for different reasons, making up the additional $3500 to $4500.

"During the course of the investigation the District Attorney's Office, associated with the Alabama Bureau of Investigation in an effort to obtain accounting personnel and additional manpower.

"Evidence and findings of the District Attorney's Office were presented to the Coffee County, Elba Division, Grand Jury during the week of August 3, 1981. On August 5, 1981, the Grand Jury issued a directive to this office stating they felt the investigation should be terminated. The Grand Jury gave as reasons for the directive that to continue the investigation would be too costly to the taxpayers of Alabama. They further stated that in their opinion, further investigation would be futile. The primary reason given by the Grand Jury for this determination was that unaccountable funds in larger amounts had been written off by the Water and Electric Board in the years past.

"Folmar stated he will abide by the directive issued by the Grand Jury. He added that if future circumstances reveal the need for additional investigation, he will take appropriate action at that time."

In response to questions by reporters, Folmar explained that some of the utility bills had been paid in cash and the utility customer had been unable to produce receipts to prove in court that they had paid their bills, couldn't remember exactly when they paid nor who received their money. He noted that certain adjustments are made on bills when customers come in and say "there ain't no way I could have used that much". Folmar said in many of these cases the adjustment was made after the bill amount had been entered into the computer.

Folmar said that his investigation revealed that last year $7,000 was written off the books at the end of the year to adjust similar bookkeeping figures. He stressed that the City of Elba handles about three million dollars a year and this is not an unusual adjustment for such transactions.

The District Attorney noted also that the fact everyone knew about the investigation before any investigation actually took place would have hampered the investigation if any wrongdoing had taken place. He emphasized he was not saying anything wrong had taken place nor was he blaming the media. Folmar said it was general knowledge the investigation would take place before it formally began.

Grand Jury Reports On Buildings

The Grand Jury for the Elba Division of Coffee County met this week in the Elba courthouse, and as usual, released its report on the condition of county buildings. Following are their findings on the buildings:

COURTHOUSE: This Grand Jury's inspection of the courthouse revealed that more space is needed and additional employees are also needed. The courthouse was found to be in pretty much the same condition as when it was last inspected.

HEALTH CENTER: This Grand Jury's inspection of the county health center revealed that two light fixtures in the front hallway and in the north hallway are in immediate need of repair. Also, the water fountain needs repair in that it shoots water onto the floor causing the tile to buckle and turn loose. The inside of the building is in bad need of painting.

COFFEE COUNTY ANNEX: Inspection of the Dept. of Veterans' Affairs showed the ceiling tile needs replacing very badly. The bathroom is in a bad state of disrepair - it needs painting, the door needs repairing, and is in bad need of janitorial service.

PENSIONS AND SECURITY: Inspection of this building revealed it needs painting in the front, lobby and some of the offices. The leak previously noted has been repaired. The new section in the back of the building needs air conditioning and the bathroom needs cleaning.

JAIL: "The jail was found to be in as good a condition as can be expected for a building this old and of this nature. The Grand Jury strongly recommends a new jail be erected in the near future for very inequitable for the State of Alabama to house prisoners in the county jails of Alabama causing undue and unjust expenses to the said county. "We, the Grand Jury, commend Sheriff Brice Paul for the good job he is doing under adverse circumstances. We think if the state continues to house prisoners in the county jails, the least they can do is to reimburse the county for expenses incurred by the prisoners."

Council Approves Paving Project

The Elba City Council Monday night approved the spending of $50,000 on resurfacing 13 city streets. Bids were opened on the project, and low bidder was S & C Paving of Brundidge.

A five percent cost-of-living raise was given to all hourly employees after a recommendation by Mayor Bob English. English and Councilman Cleo Hawkins opposed limiting the raise to hourly employees, but the majority prevailed.

The streets to receive the resurfacing include the short section of Brookdale, Oak Street, Ash Street and Ash Circle, Pine Circle, Forrest Avenue, Elm Street, part of Buford Street, Cherokee and Seminole, Reddick Hill Road, Flournoy and Rowe Circle.

Some of these streets in Brookdale will be held until last in hopes new water mains and fire plugs will be installed prior to putting down the asphalt.

The low bidder submitted two bids on different amounts of asphalt. The bid accepted unanimously was for 39,015 square yards of asphalt at $1.30 per yard.

The city council first approved a motion by Councilman Cleo Hawkins to give the five percent raise across the board to all employees but then several councilmen stated they understood this was just for hourly employees and another motion was offered by Councilman John W. Sharpless to limit the raises to the hourly employees. This motion passed on a 3-2 vote.

Outstanding bills totaling $16,388.02 were approved for payment. English noted that over $7000 of this expense. Converting some vehicles to natural gas, propane or buying diesel garbage trucks were all discussed, but no decision was made.

School Opening Delayed

Students attending the Elba City schools got some unexpected good news this week when the school board announced the opening day of school would be August 28 instead of August 21. The one-week postponement came about due to work being done on the middle school roof. School will still end its calendar year on May 28, 1982, as originally planned, with the five-day delay being made up during the school term.

When school does open it will cost more to eat in the lunchroom. Last year it cost 75 cents per day to eat at each of the three lunchrooms, but this year the daily fee will be $1.00 in both the high school and middle school, and 95 cents in the elementary school. Breakfast prices will remain the same.

The newly-constructed wing at the Elba High School will be open for public viewing when an Open House is held on Sunday, August 16, from 2 until 4 p.m. School officials invite everyone to attend.

Six Firms Bid On Hospital Work

Bids were opened Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. on expansion of the Elba General Hospital and Nursing Home. They were opened in the Montgomery offices of the architects hired to oversee the project.

There were six bidders on the project, with the apparent low bid by Walter Lunsford Construction Company of Enterprise.

Other bidders were Faulkner Construction Company of Dothan; Henderson, Black and Green of Troy; Hollis and Spann of Pensacola; L & I General Contractors of Pensacola; and Sharpe, Inc., also of Pensacola.

Brainstorms

BY: FERRIN COX

Monday ye ole editor sent word to our neighboring editor John Burgess about a big bass we caught Saturday. We won't tell John just where we caught the lunker, 'cause he would be out there and not leave a minnow swimming freely if he knew our secret hole! A couple of years ago we caught some "over two pound" crappie at this same place, put our picture in the paper and withstood some abuse in The Opp News from Burgess, but we refused to be overcome and reveal the location.

We sent our little message to John Burgess by his good wife, who was in Elba reporting on court activities. Her comments were that it wouldn't bother her nor anyone else at the paper if John left the office. The implication was that he didn't do anything when there except get in the way. One thing ye ole editor was proud of was that my two sons witnessed the feat and now their firsthand knowledge overcomes my so called "friends" who loudly question my ability to catch anything larger than a topwater minnow.

The air traffic controller's union lived up to their promise and went out on strike Monday morning. Now President Reagan has made some mighty strong threats of his own and it appears that one side or maybe both has oversteered its wagon. We see a union that will become a toothless tiger unless it wins major concessions from the government and we have a government that will become a toothless tiger if it allows the strikers to have their way or even allows them to return to work after the Wednesday (yesterday) deadline. It is not a situation in which I could pick a side to change places with right now.

We lost a member of our staff last Friday when Cyndi Maddox picked up her final paycheck before returning to the University of Alabama later this month to seek a law degree. Cyndi is a hometown girl who worked with us during high school and Jr. college before receiving her degree in journalism at the University. After working several years in North Alabama she returned home last March to work with us, live with her parents, and save money for her return to college. We will miss her but with her wife as she becomes one of those high paid lawyers.

The baseball strike is over. Many millions of people are very happy over this, but at least a few in Elba had expressed opinions that they didn't care if it was ever settled. One man said he didn't like to watch the games on the tube and every time he turned on the TV during baseball season, there was a game going and he would much rather see an old movie.

Dothan got a new mayor in Tuesday's election. After eight years the voters turned out Jimmy Grant for political newcomer Kenneth Everett. We have crossed paths with both the winner and the loser during the past years, but only know of the issues in the race from the news articles and advertisements. After the first vote was taken and the incumbent spent the next several days denying a host of allegations, we realized he was in real trouble. Grant has done Dothan a good job, but so will Everett.

In Troy incumbent city commissioner Charles Meek won a run-off election and will serve another four years. Meek is well known in Elba and Coffee County. He operates a pest control business and has many ties locally.

As of Tuesday, Elba doesn't have a basketball coach. After the change of heart of the latest candidate, we are moving closer to opening school without a basketball coach and editor leader.

I went up to Tuscaloosa last week for the all-star games, and had a good time despite the fact the South lost all three games. A coaching clinic was going on, as well as a cheerleaders camp and a state softball tournament; so you can tell there were a lot of folks in town. A lot of Elba fans went up to watch Don Horstead run, and at the half there were a lot of disappointed people! The reason was that Don carried only twice the entire half as the South showed no offensive punch. Don got off a couple of good runs in the second half and scored a touchdown, but never got a real chance to show his talent. That's okay - he's still got four years to go up at Bama.

A factor that may have kept Don from running more was a pulled muscle he sustained at practice on Monday. Alabama trainer Mike Henne reported Horstead pulled a "quad" and didn't do much practicing all week. Don told me at the game he was a full speed, but I'm sure Coach Bacon didn't want to take any chances. Oh well, he did score a touchdown and led his team in rushing.

There was a lot of talent on the football field Friday night and the two that really caught my eye were Ricky Moore and Hardy Walker, both headed to Alabama. Moore is a 220-pound fullback that is built like a lineman, and he reminded me of ex-Bama great, Johnny Davis, with his hard-nose style of running. Walker is a 304-pound offensive lineman who was a prep All-American in everybody's poll. Walker reportedly runs a 5.1 40-yard dash and he is an awesome blocker. These two guys will help the Tide in a hurry!

In the basketball games, both the A-2A and 3A-4A stars got soundly defeated. Coach Charles Cole was telling everyone he wasn't worried about the game, and went on TV saying the "South will rise again." Boy, was he wrong! The South got off to a slow start to open both halves, and in the second half, dug too deep a hole to climb out of. Brockton's Ricky Nelson played well, scoring 9 points and passing out 3 assists, and he did a good job of penetrating into the tail North defense. He looked like a definite college ball player. The star of the A-2A game was Jesse "Iceman" Phillips, a 6-3 hotshot from Russell County, who scored an all-star record 45 points! Phillips, headed to Auburn, also grabbed 8 rebounds and passed out 4 assists. He is a deadly outside shot, a smooth ball-handler, and he's not afraid to take it inside. Why should he - he also won the slam-dunk contest! Yessir, you'll be reading about the "Iceman" for years to come.

In the 3A-4A game the crowd went into a frenzy watching the big boys dunk prior to the game, but then became bored and tired as the game dragged on. The game started late and what was billed as the "Bobby Lee Hurt-Ennis Whitley Show" just never did get rolling. The fans just sat back and watched as if they were waiting for a bomb that fizzled out. Okay, here is a quick look at Bobby Lee Hurt... he is big and strong, but he has a way to go before he'll be a dominating force in the SEC. Hurt can be out there as a "spot" player. Whitley is as smooth as silk and the best passer I've seen, but he didn't shoot very much and seemed content just to pass out assists. If he can show his opponents he can't be unstopable. Both of these guys should help at Bama!

Charles Barkley is my idea of a typical Auburn "big man." He's too short to get a lot of rebounds, too slow to be a factor in a fast-paced offense, and too big to get high enough to live inside. He is what Al McGuire calls a "battleship," and he can help off the bench - but to me he is a carbon copy of Earl Banks, a player who never quite makes it.

Football practice began at high schools across the state Monday, and the hot weather greeted both players and coaches. Hopes are high at Elba for another good team, while over at New Brockton the Gamecocks are hoping for their best season ever. Kinston is facing a rebuilding year, as is Zion Chapel; but I'm sure both schools will win their share of games. It looks like another big season of football in Coffee County.

By the way, in the August 27 paper we'll have our annual pre-season look at the teams mentioned above. I'm in the process of making pictures of the teams, and then I'll sit down with all the coaches and put together a pre-season outlook. The feature will come out on Thursday, August 27, and the season will start the next night. Whew! I'll barely make it!

The District 7 Class C tournament was held last week, and Hickman Moving and Storage swept through it undefeated to win the district crown. The Movers placed second in our league with a 20-5 record and played in a lot of tournaments, so their good showing at District wasn't a complete surprise. This marks the second straight year an Elba team has won the district, (last year, The Peoples Bank), which makes our little town look pretty good. Congratulations to Mr. Hickman and all his players!

Grimes Oil also qualified for state by placing 4th in the 38-team field, but unlike Hickman, their high finish was a shock! Grimes got off to a slow 1-13 start and never even came close to posting a winning record; but they began to win late in the season and then came on strong in District to earn a spot in the state tournament. This is the third straight year Grimes Oil has made it to state, so I guess I should have guessed they'd do it again. Okay, guys - you did it again!

Just in case you haven't heard -- Troy didn't win the Dixie Youth District Tourney. They rolled through four wins without working up a sweat, but then lost two straight to Headland by scores of 2-1 and 5-3. Just thought you'd want to know.

MAKING GOOD IN THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

Someone asked a man of God, "Which do you consider the more important - study or secret prayer?" He replied, "The study of God." "Which do you consider the more important to a bird, the right wing or the left?"

The early Christians realized this. We are told they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and in prayer.

To get the most out of the Scriptures, they must be read slowly and with meditation. David said of the blessed man, "In (God's) law doth he meditate day and night." (Psalm 123).

In this busy period of the world's history, meditation has become almost a lost art. Everything now is done in a rush. But the child of God will retire to some quiet chamber "far from the maddening crowd" and will find there great enjoyment reading the dear old Book and then quietly ruminate like a true sheep.

The world calls time spent in this manner wasted, but an hour a day invested in such quiet meditation on God's Word will yield dividends in spiritual blessing and bodily health all the rest of our lives.

But Bible study will be of little account without the habit of secret prayer. It is scarcely necessary to say that no Christian life can be a success without daily prayer. Jesus said, "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father

TOM CASADAY

PEACHES Fred Stinson of Route One, Enterprise, has some of the largest peaches that I have seen. In fact, many of them are the size of a medium to large orange. He does not know the variety, but is trying to protect the tree so that it will keep on bearing.

This reminds me that you need to treat the peach tree borer. Bore holes into the peach tree trunk and lower limbs. A jelly-like substance is formed. Just about all peach and plum trees are infested with the borer. Untreated trees will many times become less productive.

Use Lorsban or Dursban at the rate of 3 tablespoons per gallon of water. Spray the trunk and lower limbs thoroughly. Let some of the spray trickle down the base of the tree. Treat three times 10 days apart.

WORMS We have a lot of worms in peanut fields and some in soybean fields. A lot of farmers waste money by treating for worms before a buildup occurs. Peanut and soybean plants can start a lot of foliage damage, even up to one-third of the leaves, before losses occur. Treat early and often. Use a soil-applied top dressing of granular insecticide. It will keep the worms from eating the roots.

FOOT-LONG BUTTERBEANS

Henry Suley measures this deciding whether or not to go into the business of raising the larger-than-normal beans. After discovering this particular bean grew to a length of 12 inches, Suley said he plans to plant a crop of the vegetables next year.

It is certainly not too early to go ahead and now around the borders of fields and start getting the fields ready for harvest. If you haven't already, now is an excellent time to do this. I have seen folks lose several hundred pounds of peanuts per acre by being unable to harvest them at the right time.

Two individuals have been treated in the past few days for pesticide poisoning. Be sure to follow directions carefully and wear a respirator where situations warrant.

Some people are more susceptible to pesticides than others. Be sure to follow directions carefully. Don't take any chances.

Don't be misled into thinking that rattlesnakes are only in peanut and soybean fields. They can come up to your yard and be right in your driveway or any number of places around your house. Watch for them closely in August and September.
